

Summer 1993

Thank you very much for writing. We apologize greatly for taking an eternity to respond. The past two years have been a time of transition and change for Nine Inch Nails. For those of you who haven't been able to follow the story in the press, Nine Inch Nails' "broken" six-song EP was the first release on our label NOTHING, under the aegis of Interscope Records. The huge success of "broken" (including going platinum) owes a great deal of thanks to you for the support.

There has been some confusion about "broken" that we'd like to clear up. "broken" was conceived as a six-song EP – it is not the new full-length CD that Trent is working on. If some stores charged full-length CD price for it, that is out of our control. Also, it was unpublicized, but the first printing of "broken" contained a 3" mini-CD with two songs on it in a separate sleeve. The subsequent printings of "broken" put the two extra tracks at the end of the regular CD, after a passage of silence. The idea was that the fans who were the first to purchase "broken" got a little surprise. We learned that some retailers got the story wrong (even though they were all informed of it through printed materials sent) and told shoppers that the 3" CD was inserted randomly throughout the packages. We are sorry if you were told this mistakenly.

The next release for Nine Inch Nails was the "fixed" single, featuring remixes, re-interpretations and otherwise bastardized tracks using the recordings from "broken" as a base. "fixed" was limited to one printing of 50,000.

Trent is currently writing and recording new material for his full-length CD, tentatively titled "the downward spiral". At the time of this letter, a fall release is scheduled with a tour of America, Europe, Australia and Japan to follow.

Many of you have requested information on ordering Nine Inch Nails merchandise. We have taken the liberty of enclosing an order form with all currently available items.

Your letters and interest in Nine Inch Nails is absolutely appreciated. Please find enclosed a free "fixed" sticker from us as a way of saying "thanks" for all the support now and in the future.
